SPIRITUAL EYES

Dec. 12, 2009

"For now we see through a glass darkly..."(1 Cor. 13:12)".

Dear friends,

Closing in on Christmas, I bid you all the Lord's best for the rest of this year and for the next. May the eyes of your hearts be opened to see the Truth.

Early last week, during the night, I awoke to my most intense fight ever with a demon. And during the next several nights, I saw an angel walking slowly across my room carrying with her an indescribable peace.

A couple days ago, our Lifehouse Village (Tito) caretaker (Nelson) was walking down the stairway to the cistern, where his wife was taking a bath, when he looked back and saw an angel standing at the top of the stairs. The angel was dressed in white and his face was "covered". Nelson said that that was the first time that he'd ever seen an angel.

In summation, as Paul says in Colossians, let's keep our focus on things above, not on things of the earth. Don't know about you, but I "can't hardly wait for that glorious day of graduation!"

PRAISES:

1. The city engineer has given us the green light for building our gym. We're just waiting for a billboard to be put up.
2. For some days off already as the countdown to Christmas has begun.

PRAYERS:

1. Ricardo's biopsy returned positive with #3 colon cancer. Please pray for his spiritual salvation.
2. Oggie was sent home early for Christmas. Our 11-yr.-old "music conductor" went to break up a fight and ended up beating up one of the combatants.
3. The extremely cold weather is terribly hard on Renea. Please pray for the Lord to move in people's hearts, hence their pocketbooks, for their necessary support so that my precious colleagues can soon join us.
4. Please continue to pray for $ support and for more Warriors on the Walls.
5. On the 15th, we (Lifehouse Center staff) will be having our Christmas party, monthly staff and a planning meeting. Pray for good "connections" as we also plan to Skype with the Buchens.

God bless,

in Christ,

Ron
